

MR. Q. B. ENTERPRISE, OF HARLEM, IS COMPETING FOR THE WORLD'S $300 "WANT" PRIZE. HE THINKS HE HAS A GOOD CHANCE TO WIN.

LAST EDITION WHICH FIRED?

"Judge Masterson," Says the Lady—"Mrs. Hopkinson," Says the Judge.

Partial Solution of the Mysterious Shooting in the Grand Central Flat.

The Millionaire's Friend Suspected a Rival.

He Sheds Repentant Tears in Court, and Both Are Discharged.

Mrs. Alice L. Hopkinson, pretty and cool, in a fashionable gown of old gold and black silk, and wearing a bewitching little pink tulle on her brown hair, was arraigned before Judge H. H. Johnson in the Grand Central Flat, yesterday morning, on a charge of shooting her husband, Mr. George H. Hopkinson, a wealthy merchant, with a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver.

Mr. Hopkinson, a tall, dark, and somewhat portly man, with a white shirt and a dark tie, stood by her side, looking on with a calm and collected expression.

The case was heard in the Grand Central Flat, a roomy and well-furnished apartment on the top floor of the building. The room was filled with people, including the judge, the jury, and a large number of spectators.

The judge, a middle-aged man with a white beard and a black robe, presided over the trial. He looked at the defendant with a stern expression.

The jury, a group of men in black robes, sat in front of the judge. They looked at the defendant with interest.

The spectators, a mix of men and women, sat in the back of the room. They looked at the defendant with curiosity.

The trial began with the reading of the indictment. It charged Mrs. Hopkinson with the murder of her husband.

Next, the prosecution called its witnesses. The first was a maid who testified that she saw Mrs. Hopkinson in the room with her husband the night of the shooting.

Then, the defense called its witnesses. The first was a doctor who testified that he examined Mrs. Hopkinson's gun and found it to be the same as the one found in the room.

The trial continued with the testimony of other witnesses. Each side presented its case, and the judge listened to them all.

Finally, the judge gave his verdict. He found Mrs. Hopkinson not guilty of the murder of her husband.

The jury also found her not guilty. They agreed with the judge's decision.

The case was then closed. Mrs. Hopkinson and her husband were both discharged.

The judge, the jury, and the spectators all left the room. The trial was over.

THE SHREWD YANKEE AND THE AVARICIOUS GOAT—A TALE OF "WANT" AND PROSPERITY.

This Advertisement is designed to impress upon your mind the fact that THE NEW YORK WORLD charges HALF RATES only for "Situations Wanted" and "Help Wanted" "WANTS" ON MONDAYS AND SATURDAYS, SPECIAL SITUATION DAYS.

All "Situations Wanted" only 5 cents per line; all "Help Wanted" only 10 cents per line on these two days.

NEWS OF THE DAY ABROAD.

Gasworks Strikers Again Threaten Hamburg with Darkness.

HAMBURG, May 13.—All efforts to induce the gasmen to return to work have so far failed. Substitutes cannot be obtained in sufficient number, and it is probable the city will again be plunged in darkness to-day.

Feather-Weight Dixon on the Other Side—General News.

AT 202 Broadway, where Mr. Hopkinson said his husband formerly had an office, the office of John P. Hopkinson & Co., now called, George W. Hopkinson is the "Co." Mr. Hopkinson was not in the city to-day, but one of his clerks was positive that this morning he was in the city.

Artists, Not Artisans.

Herr Strauss and His Orchestra Landed Without Opposition.

Edward Strauss and his famous Vienna orchestra arrived at Hoboken this morning on the North German Lloyd steamer Werra.

No opposition was made to their landing, and their baggage was passed by the customs officers without any questions.

Herr Strauss was welcomed at Quarantine by a party on board the Laura M. Starin.

Wheatman Captures Lindt.

LONDON, May 13.—On the Corn Exchange to-day there was an advance of 9d. to 9d. in American wheat.

The Story of a Paraguayan Revolution Denied.

LONDON, May 13.—The Consul-General of Paraguay pronounced false the report that a revolution had broken out in that country.

Dixon Ready to Arrange His Fight with Wallace.

LONDON, May 13.—Dixon has arrived here to arrange a fight with Wallace.

Their Past Records.

And How Some Handicap Candidates Are Working at Present.

They Bit Off His Ear.

Philip and Frank Antonio, of the Carmine street, were held in Jefferson Market to-day, charged with assaulting Robert McGuire, of 178 Bleecker street, who brought a piece of his ear into court in a paper, saying one of the brothers had bit it off.

The Quotations.

	Open	High	Low	Close
American Cable	25 1/2	25 3/4	25 1/2	25 3/4
London Cable	100	100	100	100
Paris Cable	100	100	100	100
Stock Exchange	100	100	100	100

McCANN'S LATEST

Turned Out of Mt. St. Vincent, He Throws Another Bomb.

Accusations Against Park Commissioner Borden.

Threatens to Make Still Further Revelations.

The Mount St. Vincent restaurant and cafe was not open for business this morning.

The front doors were closed and heavy ropes were stretched across the driveway leading up to the entrance.

A Rise in American Wheat.

LONDON, May 13.—On the Corn Exchange to-day there was an advance of 9d. to 9d. in American wheat.

Wheatman Captures Lindt.

LONDON, May 13.—On the Corn Exchange to-day there was an advance of 9d. to 9d. in American wheat.

The Story of a Paraguayan Revolution Denied.

LONDON, May 13.—The Consul-General of Paraguay pronounced false the report that a revolution had broken out in that country.

Dixon Ready to Arrange His Fight with Wallace.

LONDON, May 13.—Dixon has arrived here to arrange a fight with Wallace.

Their Past Records.

And How Some Handicap Candidates Are Working at Present.

They Bit Off His Ear.

Philip and Frank Antonio, of the Carmine street, were held in Jefferson Market to-day, charged with assaulting Robert McGuire, of 178 Bleecker street, who brought a piece of his ear into court in a paper, saying one of the brothers had bit it off.

The Quotations.

	Open	High	Low	Close
American Cable	25 1/2	25 3/4	25 1/2	25 3/4
London Cable	100	100	100	100
Paris Cable	100	100	100	100
Stock Exchange	100	100	100	100

McCANN'S LATEST

Turned Out of Mt. St. Vincent, He Throws Another Bomb.

Accusations Against Park Commissioner Borden.

Threatens to Make Still Further Revelations.

The Mount St. Vincent restaurant and cafe was not open for business this morning.

The front doors were closed and heavy ropes were stretched across the driveway leading up to the entrance.

A Rise in American Wheat.

LONDON, May 13.—On the Corn Exchange to-day there was an advance of 9d. to 9d. in American wheat.

Wheatman Captures Lindt.

LONDON, May 13.—On the Corn Exchange to-day there was an advance of 9d. to 9d. in American wheat.

The Story of a Paraguayan Revolution Denied.

LONDON, May 13.—The Consul-General of Paraguay pronounced false the report that a revolution had broken out in that country.

Dixon Ready to Arrange His Fight with Wallace.

LONDON, May 13.—Dixon has arrived here to arrange a fight with Wallace.

Their Past Records.

And How Some Handicap Candidates Are Working at Present.

They Bit Off His Ear.

Philip and Frank Antonio, of the Carmine street, were held in Jefferson Market to-day, charged with assaulting Robert McGuire, of 178 Bleecker street, who brought a piece of his ear into court in a paper, saying one of the brothers had bit it off.

The Quotations.

	Open	High	Low	Close
American Cable	25 1/2	25 3/4	25 1/2	25 3/4
London Cable	100	100	100	100
Paris Cable	100	100	100	100
Stock Exchange	100	100	100	100

WELL, WE'VE GOT A MAP OF THE STREETS, IF NOTHING ELSE.

BEATTIE'S PLANS COME HIGH. FOUGHT AN ARMED THIEF.

Money Made to Fly in Getting Detective O'Brien's Plucky Struggle in a Dark Cellar.

Commissioner Beattie's new street-cleaning map is causing a great deal of trouble for so small a bit of paper.

It is an ordinary map of the city, about seven feet by two and a half, yet it costs $500, which Commissioner Beattie refused to pay from the fund which is certified against, despite the opinion of the Corporation Counsel that he must do so.

This map shows a portion of the city into fifty-eight districts, with two more to be added, each having 170,000 square yards of street surface to be cleaned.

During Commissioner Loomis's administration a map showing the area of the streets below Fourteenth street was made at a cost of $300, and Mr. Beattie's mapmaker had the benefit of these figures in making his district.

The Commissioner expects to get his force at work on the new district plan by Friday, and already the foremen of the Department, it is said, are complaining of its arrangement for putting the districts into force.

It is declared that six laborers, the force assigned to each district, is totally inadequate to clean 170,000 square yards of streets.

HAIL, WIND AND LIGHTNING.

Much Damage Done by Heavy Storms in the West.

At Quincy great damage was done by a storm of hail and wind.

At Burlington, Ia., during the heavy thunder and rain the lightning struck several buildings, and a number of people received slight shocks. No serious damage was done.

At St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—The terrible storm of which rumors were afloat last night, and which was feared to be the worst since the great storm of 1896, did not materialize.

At Jefferson City and Mexico buildings were also blown down.

At St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—The first of the heavy rain came down in a flood and numerous casualties, windows and fences were wrecked.

MISSING MAMIE HAWKINS.

A Pretty Jersey Girl Fails to Return from a Shopping Trip.

Pretty Mamie Hawkins's parents are much alarmed over her prolonged absence from her home at 335 New York avenue, Jersey City Heights, and they have called upon both the Jersey and New York police to help in the search for her.

PRIZES FOR "WANTS" ADVERTISERS.

$200 Will be given by THE WORLD to the advertiser who during May sends the largest number of legitimate answers to one three-line "Want."

$100 Will be given to the man or woman who secures the best situation through a "Want" during May.

THE ABOVE PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED BY A COMMITTEE OF PROMINENT "WORLD" ADVERTISERS.

LAST EDITION

BANK WRECKERS AT BAY.

Broker George H. Pell Brought to Trial This Morning.

"Breaker" Peter J. Claassen Listens to the Evidence Against Him.

Broker George H. Pell, who is indicted for grand larceny jointly with James A. Simmons and Charles E. Wallman in connection with the operations of the bank-wrecking syndicate at the Lenox Hill Bank last January, was brought to trial to-day before Recorder Smyth in General Sessions.

Pell is charged with having abstracted bonds and securities to the value of $101,000, with the assistance and co-operation of Simmons and Wallman, from the vaults of the Lenox Hill Bank, and that they were never returned or accounted for.

The defendant has been in Ludlow Street Jail ever since his bondsmen surrendered him three months ago. He was brought down to court this morning by Deputy Sheriff Burck.

Assistant District Attorney Davis represented the people. Arrangements have been made with the United States Court, where Claassen is being tried, for the production of all exhibits and other documentary evidence employed in that case, for use in the trial of Pell.

Many of the witnesses have also been summoned in this case who have appeared in the Claassen trial, but it is thought that the Claassen trial will proceed without interfering with each other.

The drawing of the jury occupied all the forenoon. The jury selected for the trial was composed of twelve men, and the jury box was all selected because they had already formed an opinion in the case.

Evidence in the Claassen Trial.

Contractor John Satterlee, who is forty-five years old and very deaf, was the first witness called by District Attorney Mitchell in the trial of Bank Wrecker Peter J. Claassen, before Recorder Smyth this morning.

Mr. Satterlee's impediment caused him to unwittingly address the jury and spectators, but at times made it exceedingly awkward for Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. Satterlee said that in January last he was a member of the firm of John Satterlee & Co., James A. Simmons being the "Co." "Did you ever put any money into the firm?" asked Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. Satterlee replied that he had not, but the witness didn't hear him or the Court who examined the objection, and answered "No."

He couldn't identify the firm's ledger on the lack of the Claassen trial, but he had nothing to do with the financial business of the firm.

The witness persisted in saying that the firm had no financial backing until Simmons and Satterlee had been directly connected with the firm.

Philip J. Meyer, a dealer in bonds and securities, was called next. He testified that he had seen Claassen in the office of the firm, and that he had seen him in the office of the firm.

He said that $10,000 deposited by him on the afternoon of Jan. 22 was in two checks instead of one, for $5,000 each—one by Claassen and the other by Simmons.

Mr. Tenney objected to the admission, as evidence, of a letter from Claassen to the District Attorney, in which Claassen said that he had himself agreed to the payment for his stock with cash derived from the sale of the bonds.

Judge Benedict thought the letter admissible, inasmuch as the people proposed to prove that Claassen was directly connected with the whole transaction.

Then why should Claassen be put on trial for the same crime? asked Mr. Tenney.

"True enough," the Court started to remark.

He may—may, interjected the District Attorney.

On the afternoon of that date he obtained from Claassen a check for $25,000, and turned over to him two checks from William Satterlee for $125,000 and one for $10,000.

Race-guers and all who watch the races should read the tips in the first edition of THE EVENING WORLD.